

Stillwaters Estates on a sunny spring day is absolutely beautiful! With beautifully landscaped yards and avid resident gardeners we have great shows of color this time of year. Here are some amazing flower pictures I took around the neighborhood this week:

Pink Beauty

Anyone know what this flower is? This plant lives just off Stillwaters Avenue and it is really playing the gorgeous card on this Sunny day!

A Garden Standout

This dogwood tree is majestically blooming away! This is one of my favorite trees (yes it is a plant too!) and I am happy to see these all around the neighborhood.

Blooms galore!

And last but not least! A Himalayan Blue Poppy.

Blue Poppy just about ready to open

Something New: Interesting Links to check out.

www.explore.org (Wildlife and live cameras)

www.lifehack.org (Motivational and inspiring)

Quote of the Week:

When words become unclear, I shall focus with photographs. When images become inadequate, I shall be content with silence. – Ansel Adams

Happenings this week:

Tonight: American Association of University Women meeting at The Gathering Place here in Stillwaters. The presentation this evening is about Mt. Rainier – it's past and future. Presentation by Patrick Pringle, Associate Professor of Earth Science at Centralia College.

Saturday, May 3rd: Westminster Bells Handbell Choir Spring Concert at 7p.m. at Harrison Square Presbyterian Church, 1227 Harrison Ave. in Centralia. Join them for fun musical selections including a Beatles Medley and movie themes! A dessert auction will be held with proceeds to benefit Safe

A Sunny Day of Beauty! | 3

Family Ministries!

Weather:

Our sunny days this week will come to an end tomorrow. Rain for the next week or so is forecast so soak up the sun today!