

Stillwaters Estates is such a beautiful place – Summer, Winter, Spring or Fall! I get reminded of this often and recently when our resident photographer, Randy Garrett sent us a copy of a recent sunset after a very warm day. Such a beautiful summer sunset!

Weather: Well we are enjoying a cooling period after a very hot past week. Temperatures in the 90's are uncommon for this area so having several days in a row in the 90's can be wearing. The forecast is for cool and cloudy through Tuesday and then a day of rain before we move back into warm temperatures!
